

1. Statement Ceilings - Statement walls are being replaced by spotlight ceilings whether it's hanging florals, painted brights or textured prints, it's all about looking up!

2. Paper Ceramic - the hypnotising effect of ceramics being moulded resembling paper personified the eco-friendly movement

3. Earthy Neutrals - Pure white and beige are being replaced by woods, creams, soft greens and pink pastels

4. Topical pigments- Colours like forest green, peacock blue and tomato reds for soft furnishings, walls and decorative statement pieces.

5. Unconventional bars - like a car converted into a bar makes for Instagrammable moments.

6. New Metallics - Instead of rose and yellow gold, more industrial shades of metal are of choice such as brass and nickel which have less shine and give a more organic effect to a space.

7. Textures - Velvet will be even more prominent this year for soft furnishings whether in an indoor or outdoor setting.

8. Naïve florals - Flowers are out and dishevelled plants are in, it's about perfection in the non-perfection.

9. Tapestry - white walls are out and textured wallpaper and vivid colours are in.

10. Green - the colour as well as the concept; eco-friendliness is at the forefront of every design as well as the look - foliage, pale green, emerald green, you name it!
